

THE CIVIL WAR IN GEORGIA

COMMEMORATING 150 YEARS

From 2011 – 2015, Georgia will commemorate the 150th Anniversary of the Civil War. Home to more than 400 Civil War sites, the impact of the war on Georgia's landscape, people and culture has many faces. From interpreted historical exhibits to the antebellum mansions untouched by General Sherman's March to re-enactments to the statues of soldiers on town squares across the state, Georgia has a wealth of Civil War heritage.

Visit GACivilWar.org and learn about the many unique Sesquicentennial events, historic sites, attractions, interactive map, driving trails, online store and more.

